COULTER PARTNERS

Coulter Partners approached Office Profile to redesign and refurbish their reception area. They also wanted a new tea point fitted between the reception and meeting rooms.

Our designer had very little briefing from the client, apart from to create a new reception design that was modern and clean. The design team created a neutral colour scheme of grey and white which would give a modern, understated atmosphere to the area. The client wanted to create more office space to add a hot desking area, but still hoped to have light come through the windows while having privacy. We therefore installed frosted glass partitioning with a woodland themed pattern in grey shades to convey a calm ambience and allow light to come through from the area behind.

We supplied a dual-level DDA compliant reception desk in the reception area and white pendant lighting to create a feature above the desk and make the area light, airy and welcoming.

The tea point was designed to match the reception desk and atmosphere and we fitted capacity storage units with chrome handles. We installed a white speckled Velstone worktop which is durable and easy to clean and this was complete with a sink with standard and boiling water taps. We also fitted an inbuilt coffee machine and dishwasher, and underneath the units we installed plinth lighting which looked contemporary and kept the corridor light and hospitable to both employees and visitors.
